Dear Members,

2009 was a year of many changes for GAF—we lost our long standing show at the Botanic Gardens and tried a new venue at COArt Gallery on Santa Fe Drive and, as a result of losing the Gardens, our membership dropped drastically. While Glass at the Gardens had been a huge money losing proposition for many years, the exhibit at the gallery was profitable and we will be doing it again this year and next year and the next year and... I say this because, after speaking with the new person in charge at the Botanic Gardens, we will never be going back there until they have a major change of policy and direction. DBG has changed it's guidelines on art exhibits. There will no longer be comp and commission as we had before (paying 25% of our sales to the Gardens), all exhibits will be straight rental. That rental will be $3,500 for 2 days! They will no longer be doing shows longer than 2 days, allowing 1 day for setup and 2 days for the exhibit. As you all know, it takes us 2 days to set up that show and sales for that short a period would not even meet the rental costs.

Be sure to keep May 16-30 free as I will be renegotiating our rental of COArt Gallery to obtain a lower price as a returning customer. This will allow us to charge lower entry fees and allow our artists to enter more pieces. We had 120 pieces last year and the gallery can accomodate an additional 40-50 pieces. Especially underutilized was the wall space for hanging wall pieces. As this will be our 2nd annual Glass at the Gallery, I would like to see this show follow the guidelines we had for the Gardens and establish a theme for the show and allow only pieces that have not been entered in a GAF exhibit before. Please send your suggestions for a theme to me or Pam. Sales for Glass at the Gallery were $3,300 last year—let's at least double that this year! We need your participation to be successful!

The Echter's show in November 2009 was superb. Sales topped $7,000 which is pretty good for fewer than 20 participating artists! Echter's is so welcoming! They have a fabulous opening night party and more and more people depend on us to be there for their holiday shopping. We will be back again this year—let's make it even bigger and better!

Don't forget the Cheyenne Botanic Gardens Glass Show is coming up again next month. Check out the info in the newsletter and be there!

On a sad note, fellow glass artists Marion and Dale Whitmore of Fairplay were killed instantly in a head on collision on December 5, 2009. They were active members of Parker Artists Guild and will be sorely missed.

In 2010, we will continue to have different members hosting our meetings while we work on a more permanent arrangement. We will also do our best to go back to our long-standing schedule of the second Monday of the month, March-October.

We are starting a new year and a new decade. I know many of us have been struggling with the slow economy and poor sales. Let's get excited about 2010 and take advantage of the opportunities that are offered. The Board members will be researching venues in the hopes of adding another show in the September time frame—stay tuned!

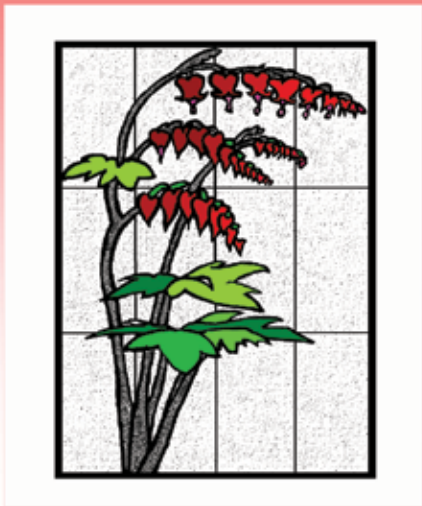

Happy New Year—health and prosperity to all!

—Maggie Heard, President

The next meeting is on Monday, March 15 at 7 p.m. - See back page for location.

The GAF Board positions of Secretary, Treasurer and Publicity VP are currently vacant! Please contact Maggie Heard at (303) 984-6245 if you're interested or need more information.
